BCN&RC to host Hall of Fame ceremony next Thurs., Oct. 9th

Program honors local nursing home residents, staff and community members

Bracken County Nursing and Rehabilitation Center will host a Hall of Fame Café celebration on Thursday, October 9th at 6 p.m. to honor residents at the local nursing home.

The purpose of the Hall of Fame program is to recognize the outstanding accomplishments and experiences of the center's residents. Employees, volunteers and community members are also honored for their contributions to the home and society as a whole.

This year's honorees will be:

- Dr. Steven Neus
- Martha Holland
- Carl Hudson Jr.

Bracken County Nursing and Rehabilitation Center is one of 123 locations operated by Louisville, Ky.-based Signature HealthCARE. The Hall of Fame event is hosted annually by each Signature home at different times throughout the year. In recent years, Signature has taken a different approach by having each center host its Hall of Fame ceremony on the same day, creating a synchronized, company-wide event.

"Our residents have given so much to their hometowns and our nation, and these contributions deserve to be celebrated," said Signature President and CEO Joe Steier. "The Hall of Fame Café induction ceremonies are a small way for us to say 'thank you.'"

Bracken County Nursing and Rehabilitation Center's Hall of Fame celebration will be held Thursday, October 9th, at 5269 Asbury Road, beginning at 6 p.m. For more information about the event, contact Erich Hayman, Administrator/CEO at 606-756-2156.

For more about Bracken County Nursing and Rehabilitation Center visit our website at <http://bracken-countynursing.com/>. For more about Signature HealthCARE, visit LTCRevolution.com.

2014 Property Tax Bills are now due and payable Shown above are PVA Tracey Florer, Brooksville Postmaster Violet Hedgecock, and Bracken County Sheriff's Office Executive Secretary Janet Morris.

The 2014 Bracken County property taxes were mailed on Monday, September 29th. In the absence of Bracken County Sheriff Howard Niemeier, his Executive Secretary Janet Morris and Bracken County Property Valuation Administrator Tracey Florer delivered the 5,650 2014 property tax bills to the Brooksville Post Office for delivery this week. If you have recently moved or did not receive a copy of your 2014 property tax bill, please contact the Bracken County Sheriff's Department. The Sheriff's Department is located on the second floor of the courthouse in the former Circuit Clerks offices.

Augusta Blood Drive to be held Thurs., Oct. 9th

October is National Breast Cancer Awareness Month, and cancer patients frequently require blood transfusions to build up blood counts depleted by cancer therapies.

Area donors are invited to give so others may live at the Augusta School and Community Blood Drive on Thursday, October 9th. The drive will be held from 12:30-5:30 p.m. at the Augusta High School in the Band Room located at 207 Bracken Street in Augusta. To schedule a donation, visit kybloodcenter.org or call 1-800-775-2522.

Tobacco curing concerns facing Bracken and surrounding counties

The recent hot, dry, weather is causing concern for the quality of the tobacco crop for this year. Tobacco needs both dry conditions and moist conditions to make the proper chemical changes in the leaf to create the colors and qualities the companies want in the tobacco.

If the weather is especially dry during the first 3-4 weeks, the tobacco may dry too fast, causing a greenish or "piebald" color to be set in the leaf. If this is the case, close all doors in the daytime to retain all moisture possible and open at night to let any humidity in the barn. Cool, dry, windy weather during late September and early October can cause abnormally fast curing, resulting in a greenish color being set in leaves that are still in the green or yellow-green stage. Whenever the air temperature drops below 60°F and tobacco is still in the green and yellow stage of curing, the ventilator doors should be closed to reduce the effects of this "cold" weather. During periods of high humidity ventilators should remain open.

At this point, we need to get moisture into the barns that are curing too fast. In addition to opening the barns at night, research has shown good results by wetting the floors of barns to add moisture. Keep in mind that muddy conditions in the barn can impact leaf quality when the crop is taken down to prepare it for market. Know the limitations of using this practice. A change in the weather pattern will help the most with rain events to add moisture to the tobacco in the barns.

According to David Appelman, CEA for Ag and Natural Resources at the Bracken County Extension Office, about 1,400-1,500 acres of tobacco were grown in Bracken County this year.

Of that, nearly 80% has been cut and hung in barns. A number of producers are still facing labor challenges in finding help to get the remainder of the tobacco crops in. Luckily, disease wise, Bracken County tobacco crops have not had much of problem this year.

Gatlinburg Fine Arts Festival features diversity in creativity

The 10th Annual Gatlinburg Fine Arts Festival at Arrowmont is slated for Friday, Saturday and Sunday, October 3 through 5 on the campus of Arrowmont School of Arts and Crafts. The diversity of creativity in fine arts and crafts makes for a prestigious event against the backdrop of the beautiful Great Smoky Mountains.

The three-day festival showcases artists at the top of their fields. Participating exhibitors are chosen by jury in 16 categories, ranging from ceramics and glass to watercolor and wood-working. Visitors will have the opportunity to enjoy the best in fine arts and crafts, talk to the artists, hands-on activities for children, Appalachian music and southern barbeque.

While the Festival is free to visitors, the event serves as a major fundraiser for Arrowmont, the Sevier County Arts Council and the Gatlinburg Boys and Girls Club art program. The Fine Arts Festival is located at traffic light #5 on the Parkway in Gatlinburg adjacent to the McMahan Parking Garage. For more information about the Gatlinburg Fine Arts Festival visit www.gfaf.net or call (800) 588-1817.

STATE SENATE ★★ 24th ★★
DISTRICT

Kentucky's 24th District encompasses the counties of Bracken, Campbell, and Pendleton counties located in Northern Kentucky. The district includes 7 independent school districts, 3 county school districts, and Northern Kentucky University. These include some of the top school districts and one of the top universities in graduating students in the entire state. The uniqueness of the district ranges from the urban cities along the Ohio River in Campbell County through the rolling hills and rural areas of southern Campbell County, Pendleton County, and Bracken County. Although the district ranges in types of cities and towns, the people of the district are united in their principles and beliefs. The hardworking people of the 24th district have developed a sense of community in which quality of life is unparalleled anywhere else in the Commonwealth. Although growth and progress for the 24th district is changing the district, it is a controlled change where the people choose how much or how little they want to transform their communities. This provides a perfect mix of the amenities of the urban areas, with the comforts of suburban and rural life.

It would be my honor to represent the 24th Senate District in Frankfort. I promise to defend the values of the people of the district and fight the partisan gridlock that has cost Northern Kentucky their share of state funding for schools, NKU, and business development.

Farmers Read This

As there is a good crop of apples this year, and you all like cider, but how are you going to make it. We just found a good way to make it, and a cheap way. Go to Augusta and then hunt up the large Wholesale and Retail Grocery and Dry Goods establishment of W. J. Rankins and Sons, and they will show you something that will squeeze the juice out of apples and that will make you good cider if you buy the Buckeye Cider Mill, the best and the cheapest made.

Thoughts and Meditations from the Scriptures

HAVING FAITH

For we live by faith, not by sight. - 2 Corinthians 5:7
 The injunction to "have faith" seems to suggest that we must do something in order to have faith, or that faith is something we can possess. But, in reality, having faith is sometimes simply a matter of letting go of our skepticism or unbelief. In this sense, having faith is not so much something we do, but something we let happen. When you see the work of God manifesting itself in your life, allow yourself to believe that this is God at work in you. Sometimes we just need to have the simple faith of a child and believe what is before our eyes. This doesn't mean we have to completely throw our rational mind overboard. There is a time and a place for science and skepticism, but science and skepticism are simply tools that should be used when they are needed. Having faith is more like the pervasive sense that we are surrounded by God's loving presence. We are surrounded by air whether we believe it or not and in the same way we are surrounded by God's presence, whether we know or believe it, and sometimes we just need to let that awareness happen. Don't try to force it, just let it be! - Christopher Simon

October is such a colorful time of the year with it's red, orange, and yellow brilliant colors. May we be thankful for God's artwork. At Chatham, we just can't wait to see what the dynamic trio of Wanda, Marlene, and Martha comes up with decorating God's House of worship!

Our special was Homer Burton playing his guitar and singing "I Know a Man Who Can". This is JESUS and He can do anything but fail! He makes all things beautiful in His time!

We were so glad to welcome back our friends from Florida...Gene & Nancy Tompkins. Gene, hope you enjoy this beautiful Kentucky weather!

Remember ALL those on the prayer list and ALWAYS each other. Christian love and sympathy goes out to all the families that have aching hearts in the passing of their loved ones. May God comfort and give you peace as only He can.

Bro. Jackie's message was from Genesis and it was about Abraham.

Our revival is Oct. 12-17 with Bro. Bruce Heller of Augusta Christian Church.

ACC revival with Kenny Speakes is Oct. 5-8.

Bible Study tonight was by Bro. Jackie and it was on our church's bylaws.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH OF AUGUSTA by Rita Bradford

Hello & God's Blessings from The First Baptist Church of Augusta. Brother Tony's sermon was taken from Romans 1:27-32 titled "What Do You Have To Loose By Serving God?" Salvation can only be obtained, through Jesus. By giving our lives to Jesus we have a future filled with hope, love & the strength we need, to make it through the trials of this life.

We invite you to come & exchange your life for a brighter future than you can even imagine. Our services are Wed. Night Prayer Meeting 7 p.m., Sunday School Classes 9:30 a.m., Morning Worship 10:30 a.m., Sunday Evening service 6 p.m.

East Fork Christian Fall Revival & Homecoming

East Fork Christian Church, of Tollesboro, Annual Fall Revival & Homecoming with Evangelist Tom Vanmeter is now thru Sunday, October 5 at 7 p.m. each night.

Special music each night by Mike Stephenson - thru Thursday; Nobleman Quartet - Friday; Dover Creek - Saturday. Concert Sunday starts at 1:30 p.m. with the Hospkens Family.

Come join in a great week of revival and worship!

Gospel Sing at Berlin Baptist

Everyone is invited to attend a Gospel Sing at Berlin Baptist Church on Saturday, October 4 at 7 p.m. The Punches Family will be in concert.

BERLIN BAPTIST by Karen Cooper

We invite all to come and worship with our family of believers. Sunday services begin with Sunday School at 10 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m. and Sunday night services are held at 7 p.m., message by Brother Dan Black.

This past Sunday was a wonderful time in the Lord at Berlin Baptist Church. Brother Black's message was taken from Exodus 33 and titled "God's grace is a gift - it cannot be earned."

On October 4th we will hold a Hymn Sing with The Punches' Family. Please join us for a wonderful time of singing praises to The Lord. Service begins at 7 p.m.

The Punches Family in concert at Milford Christian

The Punches family will be at Milford Christian Church on Sunday, October 5 at 6:00 p.m. for an hour concert. A dessert fellowship will follow the concert.

NEW LIFE FELLOWSHIP by Beverly Whittaker

We had several visit with us this past beautiful autumn day, Sept. 28. We pray that you received a blessing and will visit with us again. If you do not have a church home, we invite you to become a part of the New Life family. Russell Groves, who was 80 years young, was celebrating a birthday. Pastor Doug's message this morning was taken from Matthew 22:36-37. We are to be committed to our God, our church, and our family. If we are committed to God, he will help us in our troubles, help us with our blessings, and help us in eternity. Angela Tucker brought the special this morning during the invitation entitled, "You Can't Ask Too Much Of My God".

We invite you to any of our services. Our Wednesday supper begins at 6 p.m. and prayer service at 7 p.m. Sunday Kingdom Builder's classes for all ages begin at 9:30 a.m. and praise and worship service at 10:30 a.m. Remember God loves you and so do we! Have a blessed week!

Benefit concert at "Church in the Wildwood"

The hills are alive with the sounds of God's music! Come to the "Church in the Wildwood" for a benefit concert for the Josh Burnett family on Saturday, October 11 at 7 p.m. at Battle Run Christian Church, Fleming County. More Than The Music family of performers will be featured, produced by Darrell Polley.

No admission charge. Donations only. 100% of all donations will go to the family of Josh Burnett to help cover treatment and travel expenses. His dad, Mike Burnett, is the pastor of Battle Run Christian Church.

Augusta Christian Revival Oct. 5-8

The Augusta Christian Church will be having a Revival meeting Sunday-Wednesday, October 5-8 at 7 p.m. each evening. The evangelist will be Bro. Kenny Speakes from Mt. Zion Christian Church in Winchester, KY.

Bro. Kenny has been entertaining audiences with his songs, humor and messages of hope for over 20 years. Writing many of the songs he sings while living the stories he tells, Kenny's unique style engages audiences of all ages while stimulating everyone to find the way through the challenges of life. Countries such as Israel, Mexico, Honduras, Bahamas, Jamaica and China have enjoyed his talents and experienced the hope he shares. You too can laugh, you may cry, but most of all you will be given the opportunity to discover, accept and equip yourself for the opportunities waiting to cross your path.

There will also be other special music at each service.

The church is located at 108 E. Fourth Street in Augusta and there is parking both in the front and in the rear of the building. For more information or further directions call 606-401-1638 or 883-3390. Come and be revived with the friendly folks at Augusta Christian Church October 5-8!

PRESBYTERIAN POTPOURRI by Les Grooms, pastor Augusta Presbyterian

What a wonderful day at Augusta Presbyterian! We gathered together to study the book of Ephesians again. We have been in this book for the past six weeks and the writings of Paul come alive each week.

Millie Bush led the worship service, Susie Hargett led the singing, and Shelby England had children's church. My message was from the book of Matthew chapter 25. We were dealing with the use of talents. Jesus is clear in this parable. If you do not use your talents, they will be taken away from you and given to someone else.

After the service was nearly over, the invitation was extended to those who were not members of our church to come forward and accept Jesus as their personal Savior and their only hope for a home in heaven. Some were members of other churches and could have just had their membership transferred, but five came forward and publically accepted Jesus as their Savior. What a glorious day!

Time is flying and I made a reservation for our church to have their annual Christmas party. The party is Dec. 13 at the Parkview. After I made the reservation, I noticed that we, during this December week, also have soup supper and bread basket meal.

Remember our soup supper on Monday nights. Put on your calendar Wed., Oct. 8 for our Bread Basket meal. This will be the last time this year that we will have grilled meats. After this, until after Easter, we will have a variety of meals for our Bread Basket meals.

GREETINGS FROM ST. JAMES by Caroline Jefferson

Twenty years ago in Ghana, Africa, Msgr. Dominic was ordained a priest and we, as a community, congratulate him on this milestone and pray that he will be given many more years to serve God and his fellowman! His anniversary celebration Mass was held at St. Anthony's of Columbus, Ohio, last Sunday with members of the Ghana community.

Winner of the $100 for Sunday, September 14 was Mrs. Jean Keets of Amelia, Ohio. Mr. Charles Hitch on September 21 and this week's lucky recipient of the $100 was Ellen Holleran. Ten winners down and 4w to go!

We urge all parents of students from kindergarten through the eighth grade to bring their children for Religious Education Classes after the 8 AM Sunday Mass. Students' books and materials are provided as well as a weekly snack. As leaders and mentors to our youth, we must instill in these young souls, the importance of taking the time to learn about our Heavenly Father's commandments, forgiveness and mercy! MAKE the time to bring the whole family to our 7th Annual Public Square Rosary Rally on the Courthouse Lawn on October 11 beginning at noon!

OAKLAND CHRISTIAN by Barbara Browning

God is real, powerful, patient, but He will not wait forever. You must decide now to follow Him so you can reap the reward (Heaven).

October is going to be a very busy month. One of our young men, John Michael Moore who is in the Navy, leaves this week for Bahrain for a tour of duty. OCC had a "deployment" reception for John Michael. We pray and know that God will take care of him and those other young soldiers. We are thankful for their service to our country.

Wool Fest is Oct. 3-5 out by Kincaid State Park. Come visit our Oakland booth.

The Punches Family will be in concert Oct. 5, 6 p.m. at Milford Christian Church.

Remember the Revival at Augusta, Oct. 5-8, with Kenny Speakes, evangelist.

Oakland Christian Workers meet Oct. 8 at church preparing their boxes for Operation Christmas Child.

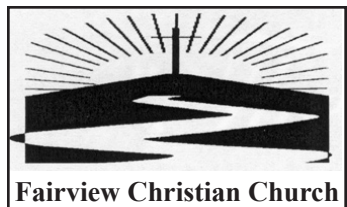

The Majestic Sounds Quartet will be in concert, Oct. 10, at the Mt. Moriah Christian Church.

Chatham's Revival is Oct. 12-15 with Bruce Heller, Evangelist.

Liz Curtis Higgs is speaking at a luncheon, Oct. 16, at the Alexandria Community Center, 11:30-1 p.m. Tickets are $15. Just call Logos Christian Bookstore for tickets.

We are collecting clothing, etc. once more for Master's Provisions. Bring to church by Nov. 2.

Remember in prayer the loved ones of Danny Jefferson, Phil Rice, Roger Courts, and Lowell Fields. Other prayer concerns include Avery Goshorn (2), Janet Bishop, Lori Williams, Butch Sutton, RoseMary Ramsey, David Rose, Pat Ray, Timmy Franklin, Samantha McNabb, Kale Denton, Ruby LaMonda, Brian Switalski, Tim Goshorn family in Peru, Juanita Bentle, Nora Hargett, Virginia Wright, our schools, our armed forces, our shut-ins, and our leaders.

The month of October has lots of activities and we would love it if you would join us at Fairview Christian Church or any of these events.

Our Women's Ministry (W.I.N.G.S) will meet on Fri., Oct. 3 at the home of Debbie Hicks at 7 p.m. If you want to carpool just meet at the church at 6:30 p.m.

October 17 at 6:30 p.m. we will be having a HOW TO MAKE FRIED RICE CLASS. Yon Cox will be our teacher.

October 18 we will be having our annual Hog Roast at 6 p.m. The meat will be provided so just bring a pot luck dish to go along with the meat. Bring a chair. We will be having a bonfire, and a hayride at dusk.

Our Senior High Youth will be having SR HIGH Impact at Camp Northward Oct. 10, 11 & 12.

On Wed., Oct. 22 we will be taking a group to the Drug House Odyssey which is a free event in cooperation with the Kenton County Police Department. It is a dramatic walk through experience presenting the effects of drug and alcohol abuse. The van will leave at 6 p.m. if you would like to go.

October 26 we will be parking cars in the parking lot and treating the kids with candy at our annual TRUCK OR TREAT Event. There will be a contest for the best decorated vehicle and best costume per age group. We will be serving soup and sandwiches.

Join us each Sunday for Sunday School at 10 a.m., Worship at 11 a.m. You can also get more details by checking out our website at fairviewchristianchurch.cc or you can call the church at 606-747-5305. Don't forget to check out Gary's blog on the website and you can also listen to his sermons online.

BROOKSVILLE CHRISTIAN by John Elfers

What is that one big thing in your life? Ron answered that question as he continued teaching his series in Galatians, where Paul tells us "The only thing that counts is faith expressing itself in love". and Mark tells us that Jesus said the two most important commandments: Love the Lord, thy God with all your heart, soul, mind & strength; and love thy neighbor.

We were informed long-time member, Adrian McClanahan, will enter Hospice this week and fellow member Tom Abbott was diagnosed with cancer. We will keep both in our thoughts and prayers as well as anyone in the community who needs God's love. If you have a prayer request contact Ron.

Other activities: Sunday School 10 a.m.; Sunday worship 10:45 a.m.; Choir practice 5 p.m. Sunday; K-5 Grade Youth Group 6 p.m. Sunday; Bible Study 6 p.m. Sunday; 6-12 Grade Youth Group 7 p.m. Sunday; Men's Bible Study 7:30 p.m. Monday. Everyone is encouraged to participate in all church activities. Transportation is available upon request. We are centrally located in downtown Brooksville.

Become energy aware

Submitted by Shannon Smith, CEA for Family and Consumer Sciences

October is National Energy Awareness Month. This is an annual national effort to underscore energy's importance to our prosperity, security and environment.

Energy efficiency means performing the same job using less energy. New technologies and processes make this possible. Energy efficiency is the fastest and cheapest solution for reducing energy use, saving money and preventing greenhouse gas emissions.

The energy used for heating and cooling a home is weather dependent. Preparing your home for the heating season is an annual event. Tune up your heating system for the winter and check weather-stripping and caulking too. You can learn if your home is using more energy compared to a similar home by completing an online home energy self-assessment. A home that has a high energy use might benefit from energy upgrades like adding insulation or sealing air leaks.

Your behaviors determine your home's base load energy use. You can reduce your energy use and lower your energy costs by changing your behaviors. Two simple changes to make are turning off lights when you leave a room and lowering the thermostat on your water heater to 120 degrees Fahrenheit.

Other behavior-based energy use depends on what products you use in your home. An Energy Star® labeled product is designed to meet strict energy use guidelines. These products will use less energy than products without the label. When replacing or shopping for new appliances or electronic items, look for the Energy Star® label. Remember, the cost of any product has three components: the purchase price, the cost to use the product and the pollution generated by the product.

Your utility company may provide rebates for energy efficiency improvements. State tax credits are available for qualifying improvements. The Kentucky Housing Corporation, through Kentucky Home Performance, has a limited-time offer for special low-interest financing for energy efficiency improvements.

The latest energy efficiency information is available through the University of Kentucky Department of Biosystems and Agricultural Engineering's website, www.bae.uky.edu/energy/residential.

For more information, contact the Bracken County office of the UK Cooperative Extension Service.

New members welcomed at Augusta Presbyterian Church

Before the close of services this past Sunday, September 28, 2014, Augusta Presbyterian Church Pastor, Les Grooms, gave the invitation for new members to come forward and profess their belief in Jesus Christ. Immediately two couples and one individual came forward. Accepting the call were, from left to right, Melody Pinciario, Dr. Milton and Maryalis Brindley and Jackie and Scott Deemer. Each have been actively serving the church for several months and are a valuable asset to the church. As the musicians played "Jesus Saves", the elders, deacons, and members of the congregation came forward to welcome and congratulate the newest church family members.

With Heartfelt Thanks

The family of Virginia Groves wants to express how thankful we are for your prayers, cards, food, and support during the passing of our beloved mom, mamaw, and devoted wife. We appreciate everyone that came to her visitation and funeral.

A special thanks to her doctors and nurses at St. Elizabeth, Dr. Neus, Bracken Center, Moore and Parker Funeral Home, Rev. David Robirds and the support from Hospice of Hope. She was so happy to get to come home for those few days and be with friends and family.

We also appreciate the beautiful flowers, gifts, as well as the donations to Hospice of Hope and the Gideon bibles in her memory.

Hearing your memories of her and kind words was a great comfort to us and will always be remembered. It let us know how much she was loved and all the lives she touched.

Clyde Groves & the family of Virginia Groves

Scouting for a successful deer hunt
Work, family and school commitments can leave little free time in a day, but hunters can help themselves by carving out some time to scout an area.

Kentucky's archery season for deer is underway with the crossbow, youth-only firearm, muzzleloader and modern gun deer seasons still to come. So there's time to find a place to hunt and scout it.

"I think it increases your odds of success and your chances for a big deer," said Chad Miles, an avid deer hunter and executive director of the Kentucky Fish and Wildlife Foundation.

Studying topographical maps and satellite imagery is a good first step to learning the lay of the land and scouting more efficiently. But there's no substitute for personal experience; walking the terrain; seeing where the deer bed, what's available for them to eat and what routes they travel.

"If you can spend enough time at the property, know how deer move through it," said David Yancy, deer biologist with Kentucky Department of Fish and Wildlife Resources. "Where are the chokepoints? Know the creek drainage pattern. The low spot on the ridgeline? That's where they're going to cross because it's less effort. Those kinds of things are important during gun season."

Thornbury's honored with Community Leadership Awards at annual meeting

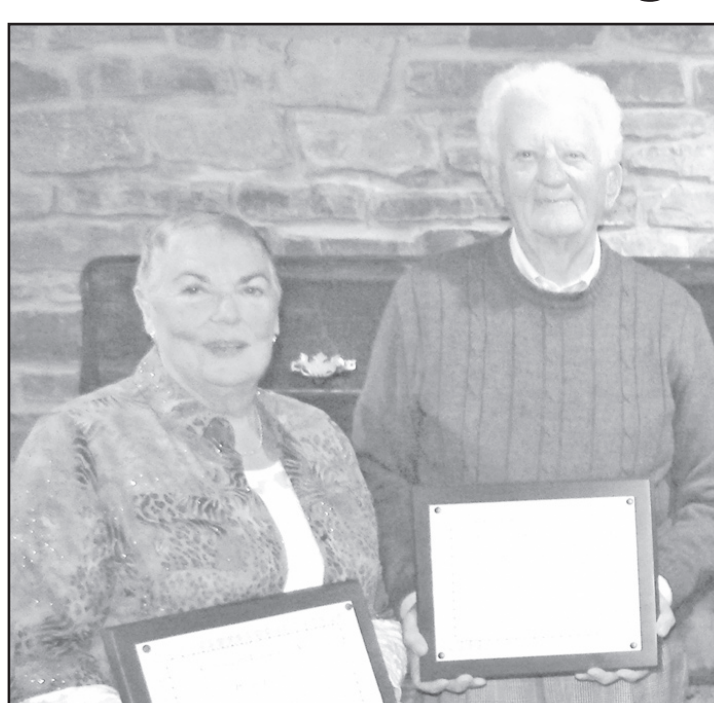

The Buffalo Trace Area Development District Board of Directors held their Annual Meeting on Thursday, September 18, 2014 at Blue Licks State Resort Park in Robertson County, KY. The Area Development District serves the counties of Bracken, Fleming, Lewis, Mason, and Robertson.

Chairman Earl Bush welcomed state and local government representatives, board members, staff, volunteers and other guests.

Executive Director Amy Kennedy reported that Buffalo Trace was celebrating its 45th Anniversary. Ms. Kennedy provided a history/overview of the Area Development District.

Judge Stockton Woods, 19th District Circuit Judge, administered the Oath of Office to newly elected officers. Sworn in were Chairman – Craig Stanfield, Lewis County citizen member; Secretary – Larry Foxworthy, Fleming County Judge/Executive; and Treasurer – James Gallenstein – Mason County Judge/Executive. Vice-Chairman Jesse Melcher, Robertson County citizen member, was unable to attend the meeting.

Outgoing Chairman Bush introduced new Board Chairman Craig Stanfield. Mr. Stanfield has been a member of the Buffalo Trace Board of Directors since July 1998. During his year tenure on the Board he has served on the Executive Committee, Finance Committee, and Revolving Loan Fund Committee. He is a local Real Estate Broker and Auctioneer and is a member of the Lewis County Planning Commission.

The recipient of the 2014 Regionalism Award, which is presented to a Buffalo Trace ADD Board member who has made exceptional contributions to the region, was presented to Bracken County Judge/Executive Earl Bush. Judge Bush has served on the Board since January 2011.

Community Leadership Awards were presented to persons who contribute to the development and well-being of their community. Specific criteria are active in civic and community affairs, outstanding overall citizenship, outstanding community leadership, and an individual who has contributed to positive change in their community. Recipients of the Award were Ronald and Phyllis Thornbury of Bracken County, Chris Perry of Fleming County, George Plummer of Lewis County, Rebecca Cartmell of Mason County, and, Janie Wheary of Robertson County.

Chairman Stanfield presented tenure awards to Board members Bill Boggs – 35 years, and James Myron Thomas – 30 years. Tenure awards were presented to staff members Caroline Ulery – 15 years, Kelly Hay – 25 years, and, Teresa Wilburn – 25 years. Sharon Hall, who was unable to attend, was recognized for 15 years of service.

Chairman Stanfield announced the upcoming retirement of two long-term staff members. Judy Birt, Administrative Assistant, will be retiring effective December 31, 2014, after 29 years of service. Connie Dixon, Assistant Finance Office, will be retiring effective March 31, 2015, after 32 years of service.

to help community college students
transfer to WKU

Community college students wanting to transfer to WKU may be eligible for up to $4,000 in scholarship assistance.

The application deadline for the Kentucky Community and Technical College System Transfer Scholarship is Nov. 1 for spring admission. The admissions application serves as the scholarship application.

Renewable scholarships range from $1,500 to $4,000, depending on GPA. Transfer students from KCTCS institutions with an associate degree and full-time enrollment are eligible.

Students transferring from non-KCTCS community colleges are eligible for scholarships of $1,500 per year for up to two years. Awards are based on college academic achievement. Other factors considered are earned hours, college and community activities, community college attendance and college major.

WKU has campuses in Bowling Green, Elizabethtown-Fort Knox, Glasgow and Owensboro.

TRASH TALK

by: Mr. Recycle Bin & Ms. Pick-Up Litterbug

Howdy Folks! "Did you notice the date of today's paper, September 25?" (That was the beginning of last week's article which has now become this week's article! For some unknown reason, other than a true "senior moment", the article was written, but never sent to The Bracken County News for publication! And so we continue with the article and apologize for the interruption!). Christmas is three months away and if you still remember your New Year's Resolution for 2014 you have nearly 13 weeks to make good on those intentions! Actually, we could make a new "13-week" resolution, such as beginning a recycling program at home, work, or school – short, simple and super important!

Last week, Ms. Heather Brumley called with some recycling questions because systematically this year, each of her Science Classes will study recycling to include some hands-on projects! Our students of today are tomorrow's parents and when they understand the importance of recycling, they will automatically become enthusiastic recyclers, passing on this great habit to all future generations! Sincere appreciation is extended to everyone who is instilling the valuable lessons of saving our natural resources to insure the sustainability of life on this planet as we know it for generations to come! Perhaps a few of these students will be interested in replacing these two 'aging' recycling enthusiasts as future Bracken County Solid Waste Coordinators!

Another call questioned the process to obtain one of the large brown Rumpke Trash cans. Rumpke's Customer Service can be contacted by calling 1-877-786-7537 to get the 'cart' rolling so to speak! The 96-gallon containers can be rented from Rumpke for an additional $3.50 per month which is added to the customer's bill for those on rural routes in Bracken County. Those customers in the cities of Augusta and Brooksville who rent these containers receive a separate bill from Rumpke for the rental fee because these city entities send out a bill for utilities, and rental fees are not considered utilities. New trash cans are available for purchase from Rumpke for $95 plus tax and while the representative will not tell you, there are used cans for sale depending on availability. If interested in purchasing a used can for $65 plus tax, you need to ask the representative if there are any used containers available. Ownership of the cans also brings the responsibility of maintenance of the containers but the Municipal/Public Sector Representative that we spoke with said that he had used the same trash can for twenty years before replacing it. Whether you purchase or rent a can, there are no additional charges for delivery.

While researching www.rumpke.com for information, we were directed to several interesting articles and videos relating to recycling, composting and trash pickup. This site is a good resource for teachers and parents to help their children learn from a company whose business it is to reap the benefits of good stewardship practices. Rumpke's policy of educational commitment revolves around a Chinese proverb which states: "If you are thinking one year ahead, sow a seed. If you are thinking 10 years ahead, plant a tree. If you are thinking 100 years ahead, educate the people."

Once again our area mourns the loss of a dedicated community servant. Danny Jefferson served as the Bracken County State Maintenance Barn Supervisor for many years and as a family member and fellow worker he will be greatly missed! Danny and his staff have always been supportive of good stewardship and in his honor we encourage folks to RECYCLE, REUSE and REDUCE to keep God's earth clean, green and beautiful! Be seen' you – Bin & Bug.

Weed control options for pastures following a dry summer

Source: J.D. Green, extension weed specialist
Submitted by David Appelman, CEA for ANR

Dry weather conditions in many parts of Kentucky this past summer may have resulted in grazed pastures with areas of thin vegetative cover and bare soil. Many of these areas already have evidence of weedy vegetation such as common ragweed and other summer annuals. As these plants die back naturally, cool-season weeds will sprout: chickweed, henbit and purple deadnettle will fill the voids. Other weeds such as buttercup and musk thistle will likely be more prevalent in the next spring.

One option to tackle weed problems is to apply broadleaf pasture herbicides in mid to late fall or early next spring. However, herbicides alone may not be the best solution to revitalize pastures for the next grazing season.

The first step to determining your weed management options is to do a critical evaluation of pasture fields. Not only do you need to take an inventory of the current weeds present, but you also need to scout the field to look for any developing weed problems in their seedling growth stages. Identify areas of the field with potential problems such as musk or other biennial thistles, poisonous hemlock, buttercup and common chickweed. Also, you should assess the growth of desirable forage grasses and legumes.

Your primary question then becomes—does the existing stand of desirable forages appear adequate and potentially competitive enough against any emerging weed problems? If the forage stand is acceptable and weed pressure is light, the best course of action likely is to follow routine pasture management practices. However, if you see developing weed problems, you may want to take action to begin correcting the problem. In some cases, you may have no good solutions to correct all your weed problems. Here are some points to consider as you make those decisions.

After you evaluate the pasture, you must decide whether to drill or overseed more forages into existing pasture to improve the stand of desirable forage grasses or to spray herbicides to control emerging broadleaf weeds. You will not be able to do both at the same time since most pasture herbicides have the potential to injure newly emerging forage grasses or legumes.

For pasture herbicides that contain only 2, 4-D, general recommendations are to wait four to six weeks after spraying before reseeding forage crops. Other broadleaf herbicides may require waiting six months or more between the application and seeding forage legumes; make sure and check the label of the specific herbicide product you use. As a general rule of thumb, if you decide to spray this fall, you will need to wait until next spring before seeding additional forages. If you reseed first, then you should wait until the new seedlings have well-established root systems before applying herbicides. It's important to note that anytime you use broadleaf herbicides, you'll likely kill any clovers or other desirable legumes in the treated areas.

One alternative to consider in some situations is using a total-pasture renovation technique to control or suppress growth of the weedy vegetation followed by interseeding more forage grasses or legumes. This assumes that you don't need the field for grazing animals until the newly seeded forages become well established. In this approach, you apply an herbicide product containing either paraquat or glyphosate to "burn back" or kill all existing vegetation before reseeding. Since paraquat and glyphosate have no soil-residual activity, you can immediately interseed desirable forages into the soil after herbicide application.

Yet another course of action is a "wait and see" approach. But, keep in mind that weeds are much easier to control when they are small and immature. Although you have several options to consider for managing weed problems in the fall, few of these options are viable without some badly needed rainfall.

For more information on pasture weed management, contact the Bracken County Cooperative Extension Service.

BCHS Class of 1961 gathers

The Bracken County High Class of 1961 gathered at the Parkview Hotel for a lunch honoring Marty Meyer who was visiting from his home in Hurst, Texas. Marty and his wife, Sharon, were in the area due to a death in Marty's family. Larry Lucas started the calls to class members and within three days, eighteen people arrived to see Marty. Marty was thrilled to see everyone and grateful that his classmates worked around their schedules to come on such short notice. Marty was in the service and stationed in Texas where he met his future wife whose family lived near the base. They married in 1966 and have raised their three sons in Texas.

U.S. Baseball Academy returns to Maysville, KY

U.S. Baseball Academy, which operates a national network of affordable hitting, pitching, catching, fielding and baserunning camps for players in grades 1 through 12, is pleased to announce the return of Mason County High School to its lineup for the coming winter and spring. Registration is now under way at www.USBallAcademy.com.

U.S. Baseball Academy's Spring Training 2015 provides young players with advanced hitting, pitching, catching, fielding and baserunning training programs with instruction by the area's top coaches at the area's top facilities. Players who choose multiple skills qualify for discounted session prices.

U.S. Baseball Academy's 2015 Spring Training program will be held at nearly 220 sites across the United States. The session in Maysville runs January 4-January 25 at Mason County High School. Mason County head coach, Tom Posey, will direct the program. Instructors will include a staff of the area's best coaches.

With a player-coach ratio of 6 to 1, each player gets plenty of individual attention in a small-group atmosphere. In addition to unbeatable instruction by the area's best coaches, players get a pre-season tune-up that helps them enter team practice in mid-season form. With numerous age-specific sessions, instruction is specially tailored for each ability level. Overall, it's the type of intense, professional instruction young players just can't get in a summer league.

Since 1988, U.S. Baseball Academy has run hundreds of camps and clinics for thousands of players nationwide. Each week, hitters rotate through a series of supervised stations, including indoor batting cages, with each drill designed to teach a different aspect of hitting. Players enjoy participating in hitting games and specialized stations used by top high school and college programs. The program is designed to improve pitch and strike zone recognition, timing, balance, power, situational hitting, bunting, and other aspects. Pitchers work under the supervision of coaches who can help with all aspects of pitching, from fundamentals and mechanics to more advanced concepts. Drills and repetition will improve a pitcher's speed and control. Our catcher's camp covers all aspects of being behind the plate. Players will get instruction on stance, signs, receiving, framing, blocking, throwing, fielding bunts, tags and the mental aspects of dealing with pitchers.

Registration deadlines are approximately six weeks before each session begins, but last year's camps sold out much earlier. Because of the low player-coach ratio, spots in each session are limited. Complete details and times for each site, as well as registration forms are available online at www.USBallAcademy.com or by phoning toll free 866-622-4487.

State Urges Propane Customers to Plan Now for Winter

The Kentucky Energy and Environment Cabinet (EEC) and Kentucky's propane industry are taking proactive steps to ensure that adequate propane supplies are available to meet the needs of Kentuckians this coming winter.

"The most effective short-term actions that suppliers and customers can take are to participate in fall fill programs," said EEC Secretary Len Peters. "Weather is a dominant influence in the demand for propane — colder-than-normal winters both increase demand and negatively impact deliverability. Current weather forecasts indicate that we'll experience another strong winter for the region and we want to make sure customers are prepared."

Tod Griffin, executive director of the Kentucky Propane Gas Association, pointed out that the issue is not supply but getting the propane to where it is needed. "Propane production has increased significantly; the problem is bottlenecks due to lack of adequate storage and transportation infrastructure." Griffin said the propane industry strongly urges consumers to:

1. Fill storage tanks now, before the cold weather hits. Many dealers have pre-buy or summer fill programs that encourage customers to top-off before the high-demand season starts.

2. Sign up for automatic delivery rather than being a "will call" customer. This allows dealers to better schedule delivery trucks and helps ensure that the customer won't run out of propane.

3. Sign up for budget payment plans. This helps the customer spread the payments for propane over several months.

4. Monitor your tank. Know how much you have left in the tank. Unless your dealer requests otherwise, call when the level hits 25 percent. This will allow your dealer to schedule you for a refill in a timely manner.

5. Have a professional perform tune-ups/maintenance on equipment and appliances to increase fuel efficiency.

"We have become increasingly concerned with the likelihood of propane delivery disruptions during the coming winter," said Secretary Peters. "A wetter-than-normal fall and increased grain production have the potential to increase demand for propane used in grain drying, particularly in the Midwestern corn belt."

This was a key factor in the propane shortages Kentucky experienced last year. The unprecedented demand for propane for grain drying and home heating during the 2013-14 winter season led to temporary price surges and strained both Kentucky's and the nation's transportation infrastructure, even as U.S. propane production reached all-time highs.

Secretary Peters also recommended that homeowners seal and insulate their homes for increased efficiency and comfort in both winter and summer. Visit kyhomeperformance.org for more information about available incentives for improving your home.

Maysville Community & Technical College named Military Friendly® School

MCTC celebrated the opening of its new Student Veteran Resource Center on the Maysville Campus on Friday, September 26. Special guests Heather French Henry, KY Commissioner of Veteran Affairs; Navarro Nichols, MCTC Student Veteran; Cody Wolfe, MCTC Student Veteran; and Charles Blatcher III, National Coalition of Black Veterans Organization Chairman, participated in the event. All military men and women in attendance were invited to join Commissioner Heather French Henry and Dr. Story in the ribbon cutting.

For the sixth consecutive year, Maysville Community and Technical College has been named a Military Friendly® School by G.I. Jobs Magazine, announced Dr. Ed Story, President, at the ribbon cutting event for the school's new Student Veteran Resource Center on the Maysville Campus.

The Military Friendly® Schools designation is awarded to the top 15 percent of colleges, universities and trade schools in the country that are doing the most to embrace military students, and to dedicate resources to ensure their success in the classroom and after graduation.

"We are honored to once again be recognized for our efforts to ensure our military men and women have the resources and support they need to succeed at MCTC," said Dr. Story. "The Student Veteran Resource Center is just the next step in helping our student veterans and family members succeed and graduate."

Steve Crail, admission advisor and military certifying official, echoed those sentiments. "Inclusion on the 2015 list of military friendly schools and the opening of the Student Veteran Resource Center demonstrates the outstanding leadership and commitment of the president, faculty and staff to provide programs and services that enhance the student experience at MCTC."

"We understand that life after duty takes time to adjust. Our advisors are dedicated to helping each veteran select the best option to achieve his or her career goal", said Dr. Story.

For more information on MCTC's veteran services visit the admissions section of the college's website at www.maysville.kctcs.edu or call Steve Crail at 606-759-7141, ext. 66229 for the Maysville Campus, Licking Valley Campus and Paris Extension. For the Rowan Campus and Montgomery Extension, contact Jo McCarty at 606-783-1538, ext. 66312.

Bracken Teams ready for Williamstown after a Saturday off

The Bracken County Cross country teams travelled to Scott High School on Saturday, September 20th for the Scott Eagle Classic.

In preparing for qualifying for Regionals and State, the middle school 7th and 8th girls and boys again raced on the varsity teams. Both teams had runners on the injured list, but did well with both capturing 7th place overall teams.

In the girls varsity race 5000m, 8th grader Kyndal Dotson finished in 20th place in 24:22.40, senior Ashley Anderson finished 25th in 24:49.50, 8th graders Heather Ebert finished 35th in 25:44.50 and Natalie Bell finished 60th in 30:13.60. Sophomore Samantha Anderson placed 62nd in 30:50.90 and 7th grader Joy Ebert placed 69th in 33:29.40.

Jacob Hamilton placed 15th in 19:26.40 followed by fellow sophomore Cameron Botkins in 16th place in 19:27.10 in the boys varsity 5000m race. Eighth grader Jared Jefferson placed 24th in 20:15.70, senior Matthew Hunley placed 34th in 20:35.40, junior Jacob Marsh finished 38th in 21:15.10, eighth graders Brandon Cox finished 48th in 22:36.40, Collin Jefferson finished 50th in 22:41.60, Daniel Simons finished 52nd in 22:48.30 and junior Griffin Walton finished 66th in 26:42.70.

Completing the days races were the boys in middle school boys 3200m race. Jonathan Bell placed 30th in 14:46.80, followed by fellow sixth graders Jarrod Woods 57th place in 15:56.70, Thomas Yelton 62nd in 16:08.50, Nicholas Cummins 63rd in 16:12.90, Brandon Dice 77th in 17:16.90, Austin Fryman 85th in 17:38.30 and seventh grader Matthew Dice in 105th place in 19:48.60. The middle school boys received 10th place overall team.

The teams were at home practicing this past Saturday, September 27th. Their next meet will Saturday, October 4th in Williamstown.

Panthers compete at Walton Verona
as Snapp takes fourth place

Seven meets down. At least five remaining. The Panthers moved into the second half of the cross country season Saturday by traveling to the Walton Verona Invitational.

Traveling to northern Kentucky usually provides solid competition, and this meet proved no different. In an exciting ending to the boys' varsity race where less than two seconds separated the first three finishers, St. Henry's Josh Hannon finished first in 16:46. Close behind was Campbell County's Mark Chaplin (16:47.6) and Dixie Heights' AJ Plitzuweit (16:47.9) who won the Mason County Invitational in September. Finishing 4th in 17:29 was Augusta junior Camryn Snapp. Running mile one in 5:00 flat, Snapp had one of his quickest first miles of the season. In the boys' junior varsity race, which is still a distance of 3.1 miles, Augusta entered its four freshmen. Rhys Todd finished 21st of 61 runners with a time of 20:35. David Reed was in next for the Panthers running a 21:33. Both Todd and Reed ran a quicker than normal first mile, each in about 5:45. Jon Barrett finished in 24:00 even and Adam Sallee finished in 32:58. In the boys' middle school race, Augusta's Seth Fouts finished in 13:52.

With four of Augusta's five varsity runners being freshmen, Coach Tim Litteral had planned to enter them in at least one junior varsity race this season. "Because the distance for the JV race is the same, I wanted my freshmen to run a race that consisted of more runners closer to them in age," Litteral said. "Their times were about the same as they have been. They all set PRs at Mason County, and then we went to the Horse Park where I thought times might increase, and they did. We held pretty steady this week and didn't really go back down. We need them to pick-up where we left off at Mason as we get into October. Our practices are progressively getting a little more difficult, so hopefully that will pay off on the course."

Augusta's lone upperclassmen in Camryn Snapp continued his run of meets in the mid-17:00s. In the recent September 25 Class "A" State Cross Country rankings, Snapp was ranked 14th. Those rankings are not just based on fastest or average time, but are subjective rankings based on the courses runners have competed on and the competition they've ran against. "I'm pleased with the progress that Camryn has made this year," Litteral commented. "Last year, he was up and down a bit before settling into an average 18:10-18:20 runner. Since the second meet, he's consistently been running in the low to mid 17:00s on variety of different courses. His next goal is to get into the 16:00s, so we have to develop a training and race strategy to help him reach that goal."

The Panthers go back to northern Kentucky this Saturday for the Williamstown Invitational. The boys' varsity race is scheduled to begin at 9:45am; the boys' middle school race is scheduled for 12:45.

Sports in Kentucky by Bob Watkins

So, will we see the newest crybaby get an apology too?

Citizen Chelsea Clinton had a baby last week. A girl. A New York Post headline heralded the arrival with a question: Another liberal crybaby for Dem Clintons?

Tasteless, but clever, don't you think? We snicker (or not) and move on to feeding the kids, keeping an eye on prices at the pump.

Here's the question: How long before Post editors extend an apology to the first-time mother? In New York? At least not until well after Derek Jeter's deification by Popes Benedict and Francis.

In Kentucky, crybaby is a far more serious matter. The idea made into a cartoon of a ball coach as crybaby, well, this rates up there with War On Coal and The Affordable Care Act. The wait for apology might be, oh, one news cycle.

A Louisville Courier-Journal's executive editor hurried forth to apologize to University of Kentucky ball coach John Calipari the other day because of a cartoon on front of the newspaper's sports section.

In context of a hotly contested political season in Kentucky, I am among those not amused, but puzzled, disappointed and concerned that head of a media outlet took time to genuflect to a college ball coach.

✓ Puzzled. Why a metropolitan media outlet would put its reputation for being nonpartisan at risk with a grandstand play that reflects weakness, expediency and message to staff – leaving an employee hung out to dry.

✓ Disappointed. A paragon of print journalism apologizes for a cartoon sets a precedent. Seems to me, the newspaper is now obligated to apologize to politician Mitch McConnell and a host of other politicians who have been lampooned often and more outrageously than one depicting Calipari as crybaby.

✓ Disappointed. The newspaper's UK beat writer Kyle Tucker and columnist Tim Sullivan hid, then surfaced as apologists. To keep their jobs?

✓ Concerned. The Courier-Journal's apology to a ball coach, coupled with the newspaper's sagging circulation, makes us wonder – is this a prelude to our state Old Faithful newspaper headed the way of the New Orleans Times-Picayune (become a tri-weekly in June 2013)? Turning its profit emphasis to web site news?

THEN COMES THE IRONY

Ironically and rhetorically 'what's the big deal?', sports news stories this calendar year alone affirm the Courier-Journal's cartoonist depiction of Calipari as a crybaby.

✓ April 7, ex-UConn coach Jim Calhoun told a reporter "The one thing about John, John can become, you know, a bulls--er. ... John kind of knows that. At least I think he knows that."

Postscript: Calhoun also said, "H(Calipari's) way, one-and-done, most institutions are not going to allow you to do what Kentucky does."

✓ August 22, Calipari was guest on WFAN radio in New York. After leaving the studio, Calipari called back as John in Kentucky although he was in fact, downstairs, to complain about Mike Francesa's assertion "Cal is not a great Xs & Os coach."

✓ September 17, Syracuse

coach Jim Boheim revealed that earlier this year, Calipari complained to him that Mike Krzyzewski was getting unfair access to recruits by coaching Team USA. In a marvelous understatement, Boheim said Calipari was being 'a little bit disingenuous.'

These instances, coupled with Calipari's frequently seen whining to officials during games (ejected at South Carolina March 1), show Kentucky's coach is exactly as he was lampooned by the Courier-Journal guy. Seems the cartoonist is the only non-villain in this entire teapot tempest.

Fall out? The Courier-Journal has kneeled to The Man in Kentucky. The newspaper has at the least earned reader suspicion of being a Calipari house organ. Meanwhile, Calipari in Kentucky is already showered with enough hero worship to get himself elected Senate Majority Leader ahead of McConnell. And, his grip on media is even tighter.

Leaves one to wonder what else could this man have to whine about?

Meanwhile, we will keep a close eye out for the New York Post's next edition and, perhaps one or two after that, for its apology to the new mother in its midst.

And so it goes.

Adopt-A-Shelter-Dog

The young female Border Collie shown above seems like a wonderful dog, but we have no information on her. A Border Collie isn't for everyone, they need ongoing attention, extensive daily exercise and an owner wise enough to train them. They are great for herding, but can be trained for many other tasks. Call 606-735-3475 for more info.

Kentucky's ColorFall 2014 helps public track leaf changes

Fall has arrived, and with it the 2014 edition of the ColorFall program touting peak foliage viewing areas and exciting autumn events around Kentucky. ColorFall is designed to aid public enjoyment and media coverage of autumn in the Bluegrass State.

Coordinated by the Kentucky Department of Travel and Tourism and the Kentucky Department of Parks, ColorFall is now in its 29th year. ColorFall features a website (www.kentuckytourism.com/seasons) that provides a variety of information about the state's beauty at this time of year, including reports on stages of leaf changes from naturalists at parks throughout the Commonwealth.

Besides tips on timing trips to parks, forests and arboretums for peak color, ColorFall website visitors will also find listings of special fall events and an Instagram hashtag for uploading digital photos of your own fall travels. The program, including the website, runs October 1-November 9.

Dean Henson, the park manager at Big Bone Lick State Historic Site and a former naturalist, says that many variables contribute to the degree of foliage color in any given fall season.

"The greater the frequency of crisp, sunny days with no evening frost, the more brilliant our colors," notes Henson, a popular contributor to ColorFall with his blog posts on foliage stages. "For those seasons when the fickle mix of environmental factors is just right, waiting eyes are rewarded with a beaming display of color."

Among many fun fall events are the Governor's Autumn Bicycle Ride across Kentucky Oct. 2-5 (www.gabraky.com) and the Bourbon Chase team running race Oct. 10-11 (www.bourbonchase.com).

RE-ELECT EARL BUSH

Bracken County Judge Executive

Four years ago when I ran for the office of Judge Executive, I said that I had the background, practical experience, and desire to do the job. I was raised on a tobacco and dairy farm, had 6 years experience in the United States Air Force as a navigator, and 32 years in the utility business as an engineer and project/construction manager. And I wanted to give back to my community. By focusing on the issues, making tough decisions, working closely with the fiscal court and the communities, and doing what needs to be done without worrying about who gets the credit, Bracken County has accomplished much over these four years—

- Improved and/or replaced sidewalks, roads, bridges, creek beds, and senior citizens' building
- Modernized our fleet of vehicles and developed a replacement program
- Improved our parks and developed the trails at the Industrial Park
- Replaced and/or renovated the roof, windows, electrical system and phone system in the courthouse
- Kept our major employer in the county

And we have--Lowered the tax rates 3 times. Improved our infrastructure. Spent our tax dollars wisely. And Increased the reserve/savings in the general fund.

My goal continues to be to make Bracken County a better place to live, work, and raise a family. Together we can continue to do just that. I appreciate your support and ask for your vote on November 4th.

You can contact me at 606-402-1533.

The Flood Stage Players present "I'd Turn Back If I Were You!"

Once again, the Flood Stage Players explain what you thought you already knew. Columbus left a wharf in Cordoba Spain, sailed 5000 miles off course and bumped into a whole New World. The players (pictured above) frequently interrupt themselves and each other with added emphasis of music, jigs, waltzes, and songs such as "Bali Ha'i" (did he really sail that far East?), "Colors Of The Wind", (Dealing with intruders), as well as "Yes We Have No Bananas" concerning the strange produce of the Americas.

Mr. Griswold's buddy Theo' adds insight and insults to the preceding performance (try that without moving your lips) of whimsy and lunacy.

Performances will be Saturday, Oct. 11 at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, October 12 at 3:30 p.m. in Augusta at the VFW Hall located at 208 Elizabeth Street, Augusta.
